DRAMATIC MOMENT FROM 'MEET JOHN DOE'

The starlings which are found in every part of the United States, are thought to be descendants of 50 pairs that were released in Central Park, New York, in 1890 and 1891.

Conservation of Rubber Supplies Is Proposed

AKRON, Ohio—In a letter P. W. Litchfield called upon the rubber industry to inaugurate a program which will free additional ships for the use of Great Britain and conserve available supplies of rubber for essential purposes. His letter follows:

"While not actually at war, America is proceeding quite rapidly to place her internal affairs on a real war footing.

"This means sharp readjustments in all phases of domestic activities.

"Particularly important will be the adjustments we must make in the use of strategic materials and facilities and of course, this includes rubber.

"As I have stressed in previous messages, rubber is a basic and vital requirement in America's peace time economy. In time of national crisis it becomes increasingly important.

"So it would appear high time that we take a square look at the rubber situation with especial attention to factors bearing upon adjustments which the tire dealers of America may be called upon to make.

"We have in the country today what amounts to a normal six months' supply of rubber. Half of this is in the hands of manufacturers and dealers while the other half is government-owned and subject to use only as national emergency needs may dictate.

"Our major source of supply lies half way around the globe where plantations of the British and Dutch East Indies produce approximately 95 per cent of all of the rubber required by the whole world."

Tax Delinquent Lots Bring $5 Each at Sale

San Mateo County Tuesday sold 312 tax delinquent lots in the Schwerin subdivision in Visitacion Valley, near the "Cow Palace," to Becher & Wilson Realty Co. of San Francisco at a price of $5 a lot, plus assumption of $32,621.21 bonded indebtedness.

Only one bid was submitted at the public sale, transfering ownership of the large parcel of residential lots to developers who pronounced it a "half-million-dollar deal."

Commercial Section Plans Abandoned

ATHERTON — The Atherton Planning Commission Tuesday adopted a resolution recommending abandonment of a plan to establish a new commercial section on Marsh Rd. at Bay Rd. and opposing any further business extension in the community.

Although 75 Atherton residents crowded into the town hall for the scheduled public hearing, opponents of the plan were not given an opportunity to voice their opinions before the resolution was approved unanimously.

Arthur J. Kates, president of the commission, opened the meeting with the statement members of the board were convinced a preponderance of Atherton residents were against the proposal and already had made up their minds to recommend abandonment of the plan.

Kates asked for statements from any proponent of establishing the new district. When no one spoke, the commission president introduced the resolution for abandonment without hearing from those opposing the proposal.

The 75 persons present, most of whom were members of the Town Meeting, an improvement group, had unanimously adopted a resolution, at a meeting held just prior to the scheduled public hearing, opposing any extension of the district.

One hundred years ago the best cows gave not to exceed 2000 pounds of milk a year. The best modern dairies today average 5000 pounds per cow.

They said home-building would start soon.

Supervisor John A. Lynch, who represented the county in negotiations, said the sale meant a triple benefit to the county, relieving it of more than $32,000 in 1915 street improvement bond indebtedness, providing needed housing expansion, and restoring the property to the tax rolls.

Total price of the lots, exclusive of the inherent indebtedness assumed by the purchasers, was $1800, including $1560 for the lots at $5 each and $240 advertising costs.

Prior to the sale, the county had paid off approximately $42,000 of the bonded indebtedness. The bonds had an original value of $106,000.

A burglar stole $18,000 worth of jewelry from the Marshal H. Fisher home at Woodside, last night, the sheriff's office reported this afternoon. The loss was covered by insurance. The theft was discovered by servants. Mrs. Fisher and her daughter were asleep at the time and heard no sounds.

Guarding of Slayer Costs County $632

Cost of guarding John M. Holmes, indicted for the murder of Wilson D. McNary at San Mateo on May 3, at Mills Memorial Hospital was set at $632.69 by Sheriff McGrath Tuesday when he requested the board of supervisors to approve a fund transfer of that amount.

Sheriff McGrath asked that the sum be transferred from the sheriff's expense fund to the depleted prisoners' board fund. The sum was based on the estimated cost of posting guards at the hospital from May 10 until July.

Holmes blinded himself permanently by a bullet fired into his temple in an alleged suicide attempt after McNary was fatally shot in his room at Benjamin Franklin Hotel.

Johns-Manville Journal
JOHNS MANVILLE JM PRODUCTS

$1475 To Boil Pot of Coffee

One company wondered why its fuel bills had been so high and called in a J-M insulation engineer.

The engineer noticed Old Tom, the plant foreman, boiling a pot of coffee on a bare steam pipe. Tom had been doing it at noon for years. The engineer had the pipe covered with J-M insulation, saving the company $1475 a year on its steam bill.

It is estimated that J-M insulations are now saving all of industry more than two hundred million dollars every year.

J-M Defense Work Not Showy, But Vital

Important Little Items Needed By Industry, The Army and Navy

In the army, the soldier who shoes a mule or peels a potato is just as essential as one who fires a machine gun.

Johns-Manville's part in defense work is quite unspectacular, compared with that of manufacturers who turn out airplanes or anti-aircraft guns.

But J-M is doing its bit, and a pretty big bit at that. Over a third of our factory effort is on defense work, and our defense workers are at

J-M FAMILY ALBUM

With J-M More Than 50 Years—Clifford L. ("Doc") Bates, Johns-Manville veteran with more than 50 years of service was recently given a medal for his record service in industry at a testimonial dinner sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers on the Pacific Coast. Mr. Bates, shown at the extreme right, got his first job in 1888, the year of the famous blizzard. He was eleven years old and received $3 a week for a 60-hour week. He rose from the ranks to become a J-M factory manager at Pittsburg, Calif., and to hold other important positions with Johns-Manville.

it 24 hours a day (in shifts of course).

Among many other things, we make small but highly important asbestos parts for bomber motors — without which these bombers could not operate.

A hitch in our production of these parts could form a "bottle neck" in bomber production. Nobody else is prepared to produce 'em.

Our work on these bomber parts is an example of the teamwork which all American industry is gladly playing to help win in the great job of American defense.

J-M also, of course, turns out dozens of other defense products, such as insulation materials for battleships, brake linings for tanks, and roofing, siding and insulation for military buildings.

We may be like the soldier who's peeling potatoes and shoeing mules —but don't forget that the whole big job of National Defense is really a million important small jobs all rolled into one.

Owners of J-M Number 8,000

There are now approximately 8,000 stockholders of Johns-Manville according to a recent tabulation.

These owners of the company come from all walks of life in all sections of the country and include housewives, grocers, doctors, lawyers bankers, office and factory workers, as well as insurance companies hospitals, colleges, etc.

The steady growth in the number of J-M stockholders began shortly after Johns-Manville was reorganized in 1927. It marked the transition of Johns-Manville to a company of widespread ownership.

For example, in 1929 the total number of stockholders was 4,190. By 1936 the number had grown to 6,000 and a year later, in 1937, J-M stockholders numbered about 7,000. In the past four years 1,000 additional persons and institutions, many of which represent other hundreds of individuals, have shown their confidence in the J-M organization by investing their savings and funds entrusted to them in the stock of Johns-Manville.

Ecuador never has determined its exact area but estimates it at 175,855 square miles.

'Old Southland' Episode Of Ice Follies Popular

A bit of the old South during the colorful Aunt Bella period of plaid skirts, lace pantalets, beaver hats and frock coats makes "Old Southland" one of the most colorful and interesting episodes of the new Ice Follies of 1941, now showing nightly at Winterland, San Francisco.

Again beauty, comedy and thrills, the three basic reasons for Ice Follies popularity, are combined in this production number. It features Evelyn Chandler, America's queen of the ice, and the famous comedy team of Shipstad and Johnson.

It opens with a charming routine by 16 Southern misses and gentlemen.

The inimitable Miss Chandler has developed a new routine that tops all others in her figure skating career.

Combining the elements of beauty, comedy and thrills, the number still retains the charming atmosphere of "Gone with the Wind." It has been greeted everywhere by rounds of applause.

Purse Sizes Increased

The two-day rodeo to be staged in Redwood City during the Peninsula Fourth of July Celebration will be the first championship rodeo to be staged by the Amateur Association of America, newly-formed group of rodeo riders.

This was announced here by E. F. B. Ridgeway of Redwood City, rodeo chairman, following a conference with the heads of the association, led by Joe Bessler of Woodside.

The association or union takes in rodeo riders who are not members of the professional "Turtle" association.

As a result of decision of the amateur association to supply riders for the Redwood City rodeo, purses and entry fees for several of the events have been increased to conform with the union's schedule.

CHANGES LISTED

The purse in the bareback bronc riding will be $70, instead of $30, as had been planned. Added to this prize money will be the entry fees, which are $7.50 each, instead of $5 as had been planned.

A $70 purse has also been provided for the single roping event. The $100 purse previously offered for bronc riding stands, but $30 purses offered for calf roping and bull riding have been increased to $100 each, with entry fees set at $10 instead of $5 as had been planned.

The other 10 events to be staged each of the afternoons of July 4 and 5 remain the same.

As a result of the increased purses, Bessler assured Ridgeway that a least 15 entrants would be available for the bronc riding and at least that many for the bull riding contest.

BRAHMA BULLS SECURED

Brahma bulls, from the best string of rodeo cattle available, have been secured for the show. Ridgeway declared that thrills galore were certain to occur from spills given riders by the Brahmas.

Besides the prize money, the top money-winner in the Redwood City rodeo will be presented with a trophy for being best all-around cowboy in the show. Points earned in the rodeo will be the first earned by members of the new association toward a championship of the group.

Under rules of the new amateur union, when riders earn a total of $500 in prize money, they must become professionals and join the "turtle" association.

Summer Theater Plans Made on Peninsula

SAN MATEO — The Hillbarn Summer Theater will open on July 3 for a Summer season of six weeks with a change of bill every week. Directors of the project—the first Summer theater to make its appearance on the Peninsula — are Robert Brauns, Sam Rolph, and Ralph Schram, who during the year direct and design plays for San Mateo and Millbrae.

The barn is located on a hill overlooking El Camino Real between San Mateo and Belmont. Built in 1855, it was originally part of the old Robert Mills estate. It is now in the process of being remodeled into a stage and auditorium, which will seat nearly 100 people.

Plays will run four nights a week—Thursday through Sunday—unless popular demand and the limited seating capacity require a fifth night. The personnel will be drawn chiefly from experienced Little Theater members on the Peninsula.

The opening play will be a spirited revival, "Davy Crockett, or Lost in the Wilderness", an 1890 melodrama of a rugged pioneer, his love for a frail Eastern girl, and how he protects her from the wolves.

Other plays on the schedule include "Charley's Aunt", Ibsen's "Ghosts", and a production of "No Boots in Bed", hilarious prize comedy from the Stanford Dramatists' Alliance.

Of the 174 iron-ore producing mines in the United States, according to the census, 68 are in Minnesota, 41 in the Michigan-Wisconsin area, 31 in Alabama, four each in Georgia, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania; three in Washington, two each in Tennessee, Virginia, and Wyoming; and one each in California, New Mexico, Texas and Utah.

Another Sent To Prison

The second member of a Menlo Park family was sent to prison for participating in a series of summer cabin burglaries in southern San Mateo County. Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt on Monday afternoon imposed a San Quentin Prison term on Robert Linneman, 23, whose plea for probation was denied.

Two weeks ago John Linneman, 35, brother of Robert, was sentenced to prison for burglary. He had been paroled from San Quentin in 1928 for car theft.

A third brother, Francis, 43, is facing trial on charges of receiving stolen property.

Judge McNutt set trial for Mr. and Mrs. Russell Burns of San Francisco on check charges for July 2. They are charged with passing forged checks in San Carlos and Redwood City.

Trial of John Perdue, Palo Alto, on check charges, will be set next Monday. Perdue waived a jury trial after entering a not guilty plea.

Joseph and Thelma E. Terranova, also facing bad check charges, were arraigned and time for entering pleas was continued a week at their request.

Trial of Samuel J. Moncrieff, Redwood City carpenter, on a charge of drunk driving involving an injury was set for 10 a.m. June 24.

At the request of the probation officer, the case of Lancie T. Barker, 39, South San Francisco steelworker facing a morals count, was continued a week.

Leong Fook, San Francisco Chinese, pleaded not guilty to kidnaping and robbery charges and Judge McNutt continued the case to next Monday, when trial will be set.

Dep. Dist. Attorney Louis B. Dematteis said today charges of arson and attempt to burn property would be filed against Mrs. Velma Martin, 31, San Mateo housewife in whose home four fires were found Wednesday night.

Dematteis conferred with San Mateo police and fire officials on their investigation of the case. Mrs. Martin is free under $200 bail set by Municipal Judge Arthur Stetson after her arrest by San Mateo police.

99 New Homes Started In Redwood City This Year

Building permits issued in May brought the total for the year in Redwood City to $570,423, according to a month-end report of Bldg. Insptr. L. M. Duncan, while San Mateo County permits issued during the month by A. W. Russell, acting inspector, brought the county's total for the year to $2,027,803.

The county total for the month was $928,890. Of this amount the permit for the new airport terminal at Mills Field accounted for $664,665; residential permits amounted to $223,000; alterations $29,250, and miscellaneous permits, $11,975.

The city report for the month shows the local total slightly behind that of last year with the 1940 total to date being $642,915. Duncan pointed out that the permit issued last year for the S&W cannery plant, amounting to $129,823, accounted for the fact that last year is ahead of 1941 in permits issued.

Residence buildings accounted for the greater part of the local building activity during the month. A total of 99 homes have been started here this year. They have a total valuation of $404,400. An interesting coincidence is revealed in the report which shows that residence permits issued to May 30 of this year are in exactly the same amount as for the same period a year ago—$404,400.

A. W. Palm of the city real estate department said city sale of lots had been an important factor in local residential building and currently advertised sales of lots which will be opened to public bid on June 25 are expected to add many more potential residences to the city.

San Carlos' building permits for the year totaled $906,635 at the end of May. Included were permits for 165 new homes so far this year. In May, 35 permits with a value of $179,485 were issued.

Menlo Park's total was raised to $214,100 with the issuance of $33,750 in permits in May. Atherton's May business of $72,200 sent the total in that town for the year to $185,250.

Woodside Woman Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Helena M. Doepfner, 68, of Woodside died Saturday night in a San Mateo hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Doepfner, a native of Illinois, had lived on the Peninsula five years. She lived with a daughter, Mrs. George E. Bennett of Woodside.

Besides her daughter, she leaves two sons, Capt. L. J. Doepfner of Kauaii, T. H., who will arrive in San Francisco tomorrow night, and N. Doepfner; a sister, Mrs. George Regan of Hollywood and San Francisco, and a brother, Ferdinand Schneider of Shasta City.

3151 Answer Legion's Call for Mobilization

More than 3000 persons in San Mateo County, nearly 300 of them in Redwood City, responded Tuesday to the American Legion's annual test mobilization call.

The response was rapid. Registrations at Legion post headquarters piled up a few minutes after Department Comm. William Farrell announced over the radio that the test was being made and for legionnaires to report to their post headquarters.

District Comm. Harry Welch reported that at the close of registrations in San Mateo County, two hours after the call had been issued, 3151 Peninsulans had registered.

In Redwood City the mobilization call brought out 297 persons, 106 of whom were members of Post 105 and the remainder represented the auxiliary, Boy Scouts, city firemen and other co-operating groups.

M. W. Berry, post commander, said the answer was handled with efficiency and the 297 had reported to the four stations designated by him within a half hour of the time the city fire department's siren had sounded the ten blasts which signaled the call.

Those reporting were registered and dismissed, Berry said, the purpose of the call being mainly to determine how many persons could be depended upon to answer in case of an actual emergency mobilization. In the state, more than 40,000 Legionnaires and members of various Legion sponsored groups responded to the call.

H. I. Wood Heads USO Drive Here

Howard I. Wood, former secretary of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, has been named to head the local campaign for funds for the United Service Organizations, Mayor Harold F. Anderson announced Wednesday.

Wood, who served with the local chamber for six years and conducted many community chest and other civic campaigns in the state, said he would meet with Anderson at once to outline the drive to raise $2150 in Redwood City in the coming month.

Several ideas have been submitted by the executive committee named to head the campaign and one or more of these probably will be adopted. Wood said it would take a few days to set up the details of the drive but he expects to have the actual campaign under way within a few days.

Co-operating in the campaign here are representatives of the community chest and local service club and civic organization heads who make up the executive committee.

Members of committee, in naming Wood to the campaign manager's position, pointed out that he has had wide experience in this type of work. Previous to his coming here he was secretary of the chamber of commerce at Glendale and after serving in Redwood City for six years went to Santa Ana where he headed the chamber of commerce.

In that time he has handled fund-raising drives in several communities and the committee that named him for the local job said he was well qualified to take care of the USO campaign.

The money that will be raised in the nationwide drive will be used to operate some 300 clubhouses that are being built by the government at army and navy training posts throughout the country. These will be turned over to the Young Men's Christian Assn., Young Women's Christian Assn., Catholic Welfare Service, Salvation Army, Jewish Welfare and Relief and the Travelers Aid Assn., which will run them co-operatively with the funds provided by subscriptions.

Relief Home Pens To Get Pheasants

A supply of mongolian and ring-necked pheasants will be delivered to the Upland game rearing pens at the San Mateo County Relief home tomorrow around noon, it was announced today. The birds are being delivered by the State Bureau of Fish and Game Farm at Yountville, A. S. Blaich, gamebird chairman at the relief home, said.

RAILROAD BUILDER DIES

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Curtiss James, whose business was in trains and whose pleasure was in yachts, died last night, one of the nation's wealthiest but least-known industrialists. Pneumonia won a week-long siege with the 74-year-old railroad builder. His death followed by 20 days that of his wife.

Selections For CCC Up to County

Selection of Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees from San Mateo County henceforth will be in the hands of the health and welfare department's social service division, as the result of action taken by the board of supervisors Tuesday.

The board approved the recommendation of Dr. C. C. Gans, director of the department, that the duty of selecting enrollees be assumed by the county.

Dr. Gans' letter to the board stated that the work of selecting the youths by the county department is "sound from an administrative standpoint," and would entail a maximum expense of $500 a year. The work was formerly handled by the State Relief Administration, but has been taken over by all but three counties in the state because of reduced SRA staffs and budgets.

Another request by property owners on Oak St., North Palo Alto, that the street name be retained was referred to county planning commission for investigation and a hearing.

The property owners protested changing of the street's name to Gilbert St., to comply with a request from the Palo Alto Post Office, which asserted the old name was confusing because of other streets of similar names in the township.

Also referred to the planning commission was a request by a group of San Mateans for permission to construct and operate a miniature automobile race track a quarter of a mile south of 19th St., San Mateo, on the east side of Bayshore Hwy.

The site is a mile from the nearest residential district, the petition stated. Petitioners were Earl Mitvalsky Jr., Henry Mitvalsky Sr. and Edward Mitvalsky, San Mateo, and Pat Newland, 1715 Valota Rd., Redwood City. The property is part of the estate of John Mitvalsky of San Mateo.

W. C. Talbot Passes Away

HILLSBOROUGH—An extended illness ended Sunday in the death of William C. Talbot, 49, millionaire lumberman and aviation enthusiast. He died at his Hillsborough home.

Mr. Talbot served in the United States Air Corps during the World War, and for a number of years he maintained his own plane hangars at Mills Field. In 1934 he and his wife, Marjorie, made an 18,000-mile aerial trip over the Andes. She was killed in an automobile accident at Santa Barbara two years later, not long after the pair were engaged in a divorce action at Redwood City.

Mr. Talbot is survived by a son, William C. Talbot Jr. of San Pedro, a brother, Frederick C. Talbot, and a sister, Mrs. Lewis Michelson, both of San Francisco.

Next Legion District Meet Set for R.C.

Redwood City will be the scene of the next 26th District American Legion meeting to be held on July 11. The session will open at 8 p.m. in the Veterans Building. This announcement was made at the fiesta in Half Moon Bay attended by delegates and alternates to the district, members and families of the 12 posts in the county.

The legionnaires marched in the parade and then were guests of the IDES Society at a barbecue following which the monthly business session of the district was held.

Philip Blanchard, first vice commander, who reported that the district had made more than 100 per cent of its membership quota, announced that the annual picnic will be held in Flood Park on Sunday, June 22.

Percy C. Cavanaugh, Americanism chairman, gave a report and praised R. S. Vreeland for the successful "I Am An American Day" undertaking and the Memorial Day parades held in Redwood City and Burlingame.

During the meeting Dr. Clement A. Shields of Half Moon Bay introduced Tony (Mac) Dutra, a legionnaire and chairman of the annual Chamarita, who thanked the legion for its participation in the parade.

Members were urged to participate in the Fourth of July celebration at Redwood City; the Elk's Flag Day ceremonies in San Mateo Park, June 14; Burlingame Post barn dance, June 7, and the Yountville pilgrimage, June 15.
